Archetypes and New Interpretation

Archetypus u/s Erlimizes
The main utility of communications with the city platform is to understand the flow formation and improve it. This way, the function of the railway infrastructure is enhanced, ensuring smooth operation. The layout area has been designed to fit this purpose. The railway infrastructure and the platform of the station are designed to fit the needs of the transportation system. The image below shows the station's layout and the platform's infrastructure. The railway infrastructure is directly connected to the platform, providing smooth transportation. The image below shows the platform with the railway infrastructure.